DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-7, 10, 14-18, 21, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Guglielmi (1575263).

With respect to claim 1, Guglielmi discloses a combination flexible planar item and character comprising a flexible item when manipulated takes on the appearance of a character comprising a character body having exterior surface and having at least one character feature generally present on said exterior surface as seen in Figure 1.

With respect to claim 2, Guglielmi discloses a combination flexible planar item wherein flexible item is manipulated by folding as in column 1, line 38.

In reference to claim 3, Guglielmi discloses a combination flexible planar item wherein flexible item is manipulated by rolling as in column 2, line 106.

With respect to claim 4, Guglielmi discloses a combination flexible item wherein flexible planar item is manipulated by folding and rolling as in column 1, line 38 and column 2, line 106.

In reference to claim 5, Guglielmi discloses a planar item wherein at least one character feature is a facial feature as seen in Figure 1.

Art Unit: 3721

In reference to claim 6, Guglielmi discloses a planar item and character wherein character feature is an appendage 9 as seen in Figure 1.

In reference to claim 7, Guglielmi discloses a planar item and character wherein character feature is an article of clothing 6 as seen in Figure 1.

In reference to claim 10, Guglielmi discloses a planar item and character wherein at least one character feature is placed onto flexible planar item by sewing means as seen in Figure 1 and described in column 1, line 47.

In reference to claim 14, Guglielmi discloses a planar item and character wherein flexible planar item is generally rectangular shape as seen in Figure 2.

With respect to claim 15, Guglielmi discloses a planar item and character wherein flexible planar item has a plurality of edges wherein at least one edge is fringed as seen in Figure 2.

With respect to claim 16, Guglielmi discloses a planar item and character wherein the shape of the character is maintained by a belt 11 placed around said body 6 to encircle said body as in as seen in Figure 1.

With respect to claim 17, Guglielmi discloses a planar item and character wherein belt is integral within said planar item as in as seen in Figure 1.

With respect to claim 18, Guglielmi discloses a planar item and character wherein said planar item has a first and second surfaces, first, second, third, and fourth edges, a corner connecting said third edge with said second edge and wherein at least one character feature is placed on said first surface, generally proximate to said corner as seen in Figure 2.

With respect to claim 21, Guglielmi discloses a planar item and character wherein at least one character feature is embroidered as seen in Figure 1 and described in column 1, line 47.

In referenced to claim 22, Guglielmi discloses a flexible planar item having at least one character feature present thereon, said flexible planar item being folded and rolled to form a generally cylindrical character body, as in column 2, line 96, having said character feature oriented generally upon the exterior of said character body as seen in Figure 1.

3. Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Guglielmi.

With respect to claim 23, Guglielmi anticipates the method of providing a flexible Planar item having first and second surfaces, and at least first, second, and third edges and at least on character feature placed on said first surface as described in column 1, line 37.

With respect to claim 24, the method step of folding said planar item to form a character body is described in column 1, line 37.

With respect to claim 25, the method step of rolling said planar item to form a character body is described in column 2, line 96.

With respect to claim 26, the step of folding and rolling said planar item to form a character body is disclosed in column 1, line 37 and column 2, line 96.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3721

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 8,9,11-13, 19, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Guglielmi in view of Mills (4,739,529).

With respect to claim 11, Guglielmi discloses the invention substantially as claimed including the features as discussed above.

Guglielmi does not show a character feature affixed onto said flexible planar item by a snap.

However, Mills teaches the use of a snap for the purpose of affixing a character feature and retaining a character shape in column 4, line 58 of Mills.

Therefore, it would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art to provide Guglielmi with Mills snaps in order to retain a character shape.

With respect to claims 8, 9, 12, and 13, Guglielmi in view of Mills lacks or does not expressly disclose the use of adhesive (as in claim 8), bonding means (as in claim 9), hook and loop fasteners (as in claim 12), and rivets (as in claim 13).

However, examiner takes official notice that use of adhesive, bonding means, hook and loop fasteners, and rivets is widely practiced in the toy and decorative fields of endeavor, and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ these features.

With respect to claims 19 and 20, Guglielmi discloses the invention substantially as claimed including at least one character feature oriented on a surface.

Guglielmi does not explicitly show a planar element folded in half by orienting a fourth edge over a third edge and a portion of a second surface over itself, to form a folded edge and a half sized planar item folding one third of a half sized item to form a rectangle having two short edges and two long edges.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to show a planar element folded in half by orienting said fourth edge over said third edge and a portion of said second surface over itself, to form a folded edge and a half sized planar item folding one third of said half sized item to form a rectangle having two short edges and two long edges since it was known in the art that folding of any manner is widely practiced in conjunction with planar elements.
